Hellfire Club Bloody Mary Mix

3.2 oz
Product of Arkansas
By way of Paris, Los Angeles, and New York City

This potent potion is the perfect base for a deliciously delightful Bloody Mary. Mix to taste with pure vodka from the land of the Tsars and celebrate Queen Mary I, the monarch who made martyrdom the must-have accessory of Tudor England.

With the addition of a stalk of celery or a few pickled haricots verts, asparagus spears, carrots or cauliflower, it becomes a healthy and essential elixir to complete your balanced breakfast.

If your hangover is hitting you south of the border, substitute a fine Mexican tequila for a bracing Bloody Maria that is so close to a religious experience that you may find yourself speaking in tongues. Add a pickled pepper or two to get even closer to the espiritu santo.

We can also commend to you a sinfully seductive concoction conceived especially for the late riser or the pre-partier. Salt your rim, and then combine your mix with a golden beer for an opulent Michelada. A mezcál floater will seal the deal and send you on your way to bliss. Andrew and I will meet you there.

This luxurious libation was made by hand for you. It contains natural ingredients, so settling and separation will occur. Please drink your brew after opening it. It can be refrigerated for no more than a few days. Shake well before mixing your cocktail and enjoy as a professionally recommended medicinal tonic after irresponsible drinking.

Ingredients: tomato juice, olive water, red wine vinegar, lemon juice, pickled peppadew, garlic, Worcestershire sauce, brown sugar, Serrano chilies, celery salt, dill, black pepper.
